

Short CV Monique Elseviers

Monique Elseviers is professor emeritus of the University of Antwerp, Belgium, where she worked as an epidemiological researcher and statistician in the fields of nephrology, adherence and drug utilization research. Currently at the University of Ghent she has research activities in pharmaco-epidemiology mainly focusing on the quality of pharmacotherapy in old age and de-prescribing. At the University of Antwerp, she coordinates a clinical trial using metformin in renal failure patient. She is past-chair of EuroDURG and chief editor of the book Drug Utilization Research: Methods and Applications.

